

Low-ability respondents converge on the coin-flip distribution

Grey bars: distribution implied by answering every Set 1 node at random ($q = .5$). Lines: observed, by cognitive quintile.

Distance to the coin-flip prediction

Downward but not strictly monotone; with five points the rank correlation is descriptive only ($\rho = -0.90$, $p = .083$).

